

FolkMog Summer / Autumn 2024

Dear Folkmog Members

Sadly, I think we've seen the best of summer, but we can reflect on recent events and look forward to some autumn / winter highlights again organised by our members who I'm sure we are all grateful to and would like to see as many members supporting them.

Looking back on the summer activities, we have had.

September 2nd – Autumn break at the Fat Lamb in Cumbria hosted by Steve and Babs Hodds – See the web site for photographs of this excellent trip which should serve as a blueprint for future breaks with its mix of organised and free days.

WEBSITE

The website www.folkmog.net is the place to find details and information on all our past & future events. It is where you should look to see what is being planned and book yourselves in.

NOTE: It is your website, please send Colin any photographs or reports to be published. This can be reviews on our centre events but also any reports of events you think other members might enjoy, plus let us know of ideas for future centre events.

AGM

November 24th location to be advised. The agenda will include a review of ideas for 2025 events and an opportunity to discuss points from the members.

The committee will have held 4 meetings by the time the AGM is held, all the committee are prepared to stay active for another year, however some are okay if members wish to put themselves forwards. Our treasurer John Riley has said he will stand down at the 2025 AGM and therefore he needs someone to run alongside him for this year ready to take over in 2025 – please consider this and let me have your thoughts.

The agenda and formal notice will be sent out in October / November. Please email me or let me know any suggestions you want to have discussed or points you want to have aired so we can set aside enough time.

It's good to see the new members taking active part in our events; please come forward with any help or suggestions on how we can improve. In the coming weeks I will begin the process to develop improved communications emails.

IMPORTANT POINTS

The Xmas party still has some spaces, and the hotel still has some rooms, please refer to the website for details

Happy Motoring
